Summer Quest set to kick off this June at Berks County Public Libraries

For immediate release—This summer the adventure begins at your library! Berks County Public Libraries invite the community to start the summer at their library with Summer Quest—the program for kids, teens, and adults to win prizes by participating in events and reading challenges.

Summer Quest is designed to keep kids reading, exploring, and learning over the summer months to prevent the “summer slide,” a term that describes the decline in reading ability and other academic skills that kids can experience over summer break. Libraries offer fun-filled learning experiences along with exciting reading challenges to keep kids engaged and help them retain what they’ve learned during the school year.

This year Summer Quest participants can expect to find indoor and outdoor summer learning activities, special performances, digital resources, and grab-and-go learning options from their library.

Be sure to check out your library’s website and their social media channels for their Summer Quest start date and schedule.
