

Sinking Spring Public Library Program Policy

Programs are an integral component of the many services that libraries provide to their respective communities. The Sinking Spring Public Library seeks to present a variety of programs that provide opportunities for the promotion and support of literacy and lifelong learning as well as for cultural enrichment and recreational enjoyment.

We have limited resources and a diverse community therefore we avoid duplicating storytimes and services available elsewhere in our community while reflecting our community's needs. The Library seeks to present a broad variety of programs to address and meet the needs of a diverse community. Beliefs and opinions expressed in do not necessarily represent the viewpoint of the Library or the Borough. Library programming should not exclude topics, books, speakers, performers or other resources because they may be controversial.

All programs are free and open to the general public. While no admission fees will be charged, some programs may require a charge for materials. Programs may be targeted toward a particular audience (adult, teen, children, general, etc.) The selection and presentation of Library programs, speakers, classes and resource materials will be made by the library staff on the basis of the interests and needs of Library users and the community. Ultimate responsibility for programming at the Library rests with the Director, who administers under the authority of the Board of Trustees. The Director delegates responsibility to the Children's Librarian or other staff.

Library programs may be held in the Library as well as in the Borough Council Room, the Executive or at an off-site location. All Library programs are subject to the same rules and guidelines regardless of location. If attendance at a program exceeds the capacity of the particular meeting space, people may be prevented from attending a program or event. When the safety or success of a program requires it, attendance may have to be limited and will be determined on a first come, first served basis. In compliance with Borough regulations and the Library Code of Conduct, attendees must not attempt to disrupt or otherwise interfere with a program or hinder or prevent other attendees from participating in the program. Any violation of the Library Code of Conduct and will result in the attendee being asked to leave the program and/or the Library/Borough property.

The Library Director, the Sinking Spring Public Library Board and the Borough of Sinking Spring have the authority to approve or veto any performance or program. Programs may be cancelled due to severe weather, absence of the presenter or any other reason at the discretion of the Library Director.

Children under the age of 10 must be accompanied by a responsible adult, defined as a person 18 years of age or older. In accordance with our Code of Conduct and Child Attendance Policy, the parent or guardian must remain with the child during the library visit. Children ages 6 and under must be within their parent or caregiver's sight at all times. Unattended children ages 10 and older are expected to follow the Library's Code of Conduct and may not remain unattended in the Library for more than 4 hours. premises at the time the library is closing, the Library Director will be contacted and the police will be called.

Should the parent or guardian choose to disregard this policy, they may be asked to leave the Library and/or the proper authorities will be contacted.

The Sinking Spring Public Library recognizes that the ultimate responsibility for the welfare and behavior of children in the Library rests with the parent or guardian. In order to provide a safe and constructive environment for all patrons, strict adherence to these guidelines must be followed.
